Dear Educators:

Welcome to the Alliance Theatre's production of Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed: The Rock Experience. This study guide was created by the Jr. Dramaturgs of The Museum School of Avondale Estates and Clairemont Elementary for use by the educators and student audiences of the play. The goal of the Dramaturgy by Students program is to provide peer-to-peer age-appropriate information to the student audience. We hope this helps you prepare to see the play and to reflect together afterward. Get ready to ROCK with the naked mole rats!

Before the Play

Summary of The Play

Underground, Wilbur J. Mole Rat feels like something is missing. One day, in the tunnel, a hat and other clothes fall from the sky. Wilbur is skeptical at first, but he puts them on and shows his mole rat friends, Tall, Grande, and Venti. They are disgusted by his clothes! They call Grand-Pah, the most naked mole rat of all. He doesn't know what to say and decides to make a proclamation. Wilbur doesn't know what to wear to a proclamation, but he decides to play it safe.

- * What will Wilbur wear?
- * What is the proclamation?
- * How do mole rats rock and roll?

More Cool Facts about Naked Mole Rats

DIET

- * Naked mole rats are herbivores. They eat roots and tubers by digging.
- * A tuber is food such as a potato.
- * Because they dig for their food, they need long teeth.
- * They do eat feces, which makes them coprophagic.
- * Feces = waste matter that is discharged from the intestines
- * They don't need water because their food gives them the water they need.

ADAPTATIONS AND OTHER FACTS

- * Naked mole rats are mammals.
- * They are not a mole or a rat. They are related to guinea pigs and porcupines.
- * They roll around in their own feces so they all smell the same, and then, they can smell an intruder.
- * Naked mole rats live in colonies with only one female that has the babies, kind of like a beehive.
- * If a dangerous animal tries to enter the tunnel to eat the queen, naked mole rats called soldiers block the entrance by stacking on top of each other in a big pile.
- * A naked mole rat can move its teeth separately to pick up food.
- * They have very strong jaws to dig through soil.
- * A female naked mole rat can give birth to 12-28 pups at a time.
- * They are also called sand puppies.

Rock Music

Rock music is a big part of the Rock Experience of the play. What is Rock music?

Rock is a kind of popular music with a strong beat, a simple melody, and lyrics that often repeat

Glam Rock

Glam Rock is the kind of music that inspired the Rock Experience of the play.

- * Glam Rock is a musical movement from the 1970s and started in Britain.
- * It is also known as Glitter Rock because the singers' costumes were glittery and crazy.
- * People wore outrageous costumes, hairstyles, makeup, platform shoes, and of course, glitter.
- * Musicians and bands famous for Glam Rock are Queen, Lou Reed, David Bowie, Elton John, Roxie Music, the New York Dolls, and Alice Cooper.

People didn't like that he was bringing new music to their culture. Elvis was "the King of Dance," and he loved to dance. He was born in 1935 and died in 1977 at his home in Nashville called Graceland.

TINA TURNER

Tina Turner is known for her long legs, short skirts, What's Love Got to Do with It, and Proud Mary. She sings alto, and her voice is strong and growly. Tina Turner was born Anna Mae Bullock on November 26, 1939 in Nutbush, Tennessee.

ELTON JOHN

Elton John is famous for playing the piano and singing at the same time. He has sold over 300 million records. He is known for his style and his hair. He wears big glasses, funny wigs, and crazy, sparkly looking clothes. His biggest songs are I'm Still Standing, Don't Let The Sun Go Down On Me, and Tiny Dancer.

David Bowie was born in London, England in 1947 and was honored in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1996. He died in 2016. He was known for his flashy appearances and being able to change his voice, musical genres, and looks. He never was afraid to be himself and be different, even if he was laughed at. He has many famous songs such as Space Oddity (Ground Control to Major Tom), China Girl and Changes.

Before the Play

Humor

Discuss

The play uses two very different types of humor: Play on Words and Sarcasm.

Play on Words, or a pun, is using humor and double meaning in your words to get your point across. One example would be, “White boards are remarkable.” The boards can be marked on again and again, and teachers think they are pretty amazing.

EXAMPLES OF PLAY ON WORDS FROM Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed: The Rock Experience

* “We live in a Tunnel of Rock, so we Rock!”

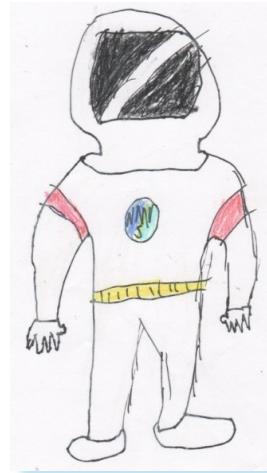

This joke uses two types of rock: rock as in rock music and rocks you find in the ground.

* “I’m wearing my birthday suit.”

A “birthday suit” is when you are naked like the day when you were born, when you do not wear anything AT ALL.

* “There must be more to the fabric of my life.”

“Fabric of my life” means all the events that happen in your life. This is funny in the play because at this moment, the characters aren’t wearing clothes.

Astronaut Costume
by Eddie

Sarcasm is mocking or saying something you do not mean.

One example would be, “Oh, that’s just great” when something isn’t great at all.

EXAMPLE OF SARCASM FROM THE PLAY

* Grande, who is really sarcastic, says to Wilbur: “If you like clothes so much, Wilbur, then why don’t you just open a store or something!”

Grande is teasing Wilbur because he actually doesn’t want Wilbur to open a store.

Pre-Show and Post-Show Questions

Before The Play

- * Have you heard or read the story of Naked Mole Rats Get Dressed by Mo Willems?
- * What do you think the play is about from reading the title?
- * What are naked mole rats? (see pages 6-7 for the answer)
- * What is a rock concert? (see page 8)
- * Is it easy to be yourself?
- * Do you think you should judge books by their covers?

During The Play

- * Watch how the actors transform their bodies to become the characters throughout the play.
- * Notice how the lighting affects the mood of the scenes.
- * How do they transform the stage into a tunnel? What materials do you think they used?
- * What happens to create the feeling of a rock concert? Notice the lighting, the sound, and the costumes.
- * Notice which characters are wearing clothes and when.

After The Play

- * Who was your favorite character, and why?
- * What was a moment from the play that you remember? Why was it memorable?
- * Did any part make you laugh? Or scared?
Which part and why?
- * How do the actors transform their bodies to become different characters throughout the play?
- * When do YOU ask, "Why not?"
- * How do you use your clothes to express your emotions and attitude?

TALL, VENTI, and GRANDE by Nathan

QUESTIONS FOR YOU FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE PLAY, Leora Morris:

- * When in your life have you tried something new and realized it wasn't as scary as you thought it would be?
- * When have you tried something out of the "norm?"
- * How do you interact with different generations (i.e. people who are older or younger than you)?
Do you change anything about the way you talk, hear, think, etc.? Or is it the same?

Reflecting on The Themes of Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed: The Rock Experience

Discuss these together with your class. What are your ideas for themes?

ALWAYS BE YOURSELF AND YOU WILL WIN

- * Trust yourself, and you will win.
- * It's okay to be different.

DON'T CHANGE YOUR OPINION, JUST BECAUSE OTHERS TELL YOU TO

- * Do what you say and not what others say.

TRY NEW THINGS, AS LONG AS IT ISN'T DANGEROUS OR BREAKING RULES

- * Try something you have never done before, but be careful and follow laws.

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF

- * Don't be unreasonable with yourself; do what your mind says.

DON'T JUDGE A BOOK BY ITS COVER

- * Don't judge someone or something just by their appearance.

SOMETIMES YOU JUST NEED TO ASK "WHY NOT?"

- * If you don't think or ask "why not," you might not try new things.

DON'T JUST FOLLOW, LEAD TOO!

- * If you have a good idea, be brave to lead.

EVERYBODY IS DIFFERENT, NAKED OR NOT

- * Everybody is different in a good way.

Additional Post-Play Activities

- * Dramatize favorite and memorable scenes and characters from the play.
- * Create a fashion show with crazy clothes. Have someone be the 'host' and describe the clothing as it comes down the 'runway.'
- * Design your own clothes for a naked mole rat, or yourself!
- * Draw your favorite scenes or characters from the play.

Post-Show Activities for Upper Elementary Audience Members

The Jr. Dramaturgs at Henderson Mill Elementary devised some post-play activities for older audience members grades 3-6.

Recycled Runway: Naked Mole Rat Edition

Third grade students collected recyclable materials, including scrap fabric, cardboard, string, plastic bags, and more. Using a white T-shirt as a base, they designed a new outfit for Wilbur and modeled their creations at a fashion show. Visit TinyURL.com/RecycleRunway2020 to watch our student models strut their designs on the runway.

Check out some of their designs!

What Happens Next?

Fifth grade students dramatized new endings to the story by comparing the script with the book. They creatively reinterpreted the conclusion and wrote their own scripts. Revised endings included Wilbur traveling on a cruise, getting hypnotized, transforming into different celebrities, and participating in a clothes battle.

If you could change the end of Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed, what would happen? Who would Wilbur meet, and where would he travel? How would you put your story in a script

Cruise Catastrophe

Scene 1

- Wanda: I'm so excited to go on a cruise with Grand-Pah and Wilbur!
- Wilbur: Yep! I have been saving my money from my clothes shop for the past five years just for this trip!
- Grand-Pah: We are going on a vacation! We're heading out to spread the word of the awesomeness about clothes. We will learn about different clothing traditions!
- Wanda: We could make flyers or posters and pass them around! So, what does the cruise look like? I'm so excited; I don't even know how to feel!
- Grand-Pah: It is really big, and it has anything you like.
- Wanda: So, it has a spa and a hot tub and a chocolate fountain?
- Grand-Pah: Yes, it does, and you get to have your own room.
- Wanda: Oh my gosh! This sounds like the best cruise ever!

More Post-Show Activities for Grades 3-5

Town Hall

Inspired by the story of Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed, the fourth grade hosted its own Town Hall.

1. Students create their own character of another mole rat in the colony. Students brainstorm their character's name, age, occupation, and opinion on wearing clothes. They create a statue of their character, thinking of how they would stand or sit. Walking around the classroom, they imagine how their character would move. Do they walk, skip, jump, or shuffle their feet? While still walking around the classroom, characters greet each other, identifying how they would sound (i.e. high or low pitch, quiet or loud volume).

2. Next, the teacher steps into the role as a Secretary to the Mayor.

Note: It is important for the teacher to not be in a position of power. That way, there is no resolution at the Town Hall. No mole rat will "win" or "lose." Instead, the Secretary will take notes to send to the Mayor so they can make their decision at a "later date."

3. The Town Hall: The Secretary welcomes everyone to the Town Hall and asks each mole rat to briefly introduce themselves and their opinion on clothing. Following the introductions, the Secretary will identify three spaces in the classroom (i.e. three corners). The students, in-role, will self-select which corner aligns with their character's beliefs. The different options are:

- * Naked mole rats should not wear clothes.
- * Naked mole rats should wear clothes.
- * Naked mole rats can either wear clothes or not wear clothes.

Once they physically move to that space in the room, each group must work together to develop an argument that conveys their opinion. The teacher may add other requirements (i.e. How many points do they have to make? Is it a one sentence headline? Do the students need visual aids to persuade the Mayor?) Each group presents its argument to the Secretary. The teacher, in-role, asks follow-up questions and pretends to take notes.

The Secretary promises to send the notes to the Mayor, and the Mayor will decide in the coming weeks.

Teachers share Their arguments in role at a Professional Development workshop.

Out-of-Date Fashion Rules

Wilbur loves fashion! Here are some outdated fashion rules that people used to live by. I really hope you are glad that we don't follow them today!

By Fie - The Museum School of Avondale Estates

1. Avoid white after Labor Day; avoid wearing white in the winter.
2. Don't wear black and navy.
3. Don't wear sleeveless dresses to work.
4. Wear pantyhose or stockings with dresses and skirts.
5. Match your belt with your shoes.
6. Say no to double denim.
7. Stay away from mixed prints.
8. Avoid horizontal stripes.
9. Don't wear black in summer.
10. Plus-size clothes shouldn't be form fitting.
11. Women can't wear men's clothes and vice versa.
12. Dress your age.
13. Don't wear the same dress twice.
14. Dresses and skirts must be below the knee.
15. No socks and sandals at the same time.

Proclamations

A big part of the play includes a proclamation by Grand-Pah.

A proclamation is a statement that a mayor, governor, president or important people say to make an official statement or announcement about something important. Some proclamations are praising someone or celebrating something. Some include embarrassment and harm. There was even a proclamation about school lunch week.

One of the most important proclamations is the Emancipation Proclamation, which was made by President Abraham Lincoln to free the slaves in the southern states.

*Proclamations are everywhere!

*This is a proclamation.
